STUDENT MANAGEMENT PLAN

THE BUDDY SYSTEM

As soon as students are sent to our center, they are put under the care and protection of one teacher that serves as their buddy teacher.

This buddy teacher stays with them all throughout their stay in the center – attending all their concerns and checking up on them during curfew hours.

This way the center can assure that the safety and satisfaction of students are well-attended.

EMERGENCY CONTACT LIST & STAY AND LEARN AGREEMENT

In each dormitory rooms, we place an emergency contact list that comes in handy for students in times of need. In this Emergency Contact List, the phone number of the key people (e.g. buddy teacher, security guard, managers and the professor) are there.

Also, students are asked to sign and agree with our 'Stay and Learn Agreement' before anything else which their understand with our rules and regulations and the repercussions once these are not followed.

TEACHERS' REMARKS/ASSESSMENT/RECOMMENDATION
Teacher Rianna	Nelson, the big brother of all the Munkiyung College students. He is eager to learn. He participates well in class. Nelson quickly understands instructions given to him and also remembers techniques taught to him. He even explains it to his classmates, sometimes. He does not hesitate to ask questions when confused or does not understand a word he encountered. He is aware that he has weaknesses in the English language; grammar, vocabulary, and the development of his ideas in a paragraph. I recommend reading English books, magazines, and blogs to help him be knowledgeable about various topics. Another recommendation is to write in English about his daily life to practice his skill further.
Teacher Angela	Since he has a bright personality, he became the mood-maker in their class. He is very cooperative when it comes to the planning and process of creating their project for the MMC class. He was the main lead and embodied the theme of their music video. Also, during class, he is very participative.
Teacher Ten	I consider Nelson one of the most brilliant students I handled, he is an attentive learner and always readily answers questions, he's very open to learning and always participative in class. Our subject is more on improving the students' conversational and comprehension skills, and I think Nelson is already good at these two, he only needs a little improvement, but overall, I think his English skills are already good.
Teacher Janna	Nelson is very easy to talk to and fun to be with. He is very attentive and always shares his experiences as he was very open to expressing his feelings. It doesn't matter if he's tired of the internship because he's eager to learn every day. I know he has a lot to learn because he knows how to self-study. He also does advanced reading and makes sure he completes the work like his homework. Nelson is a very diligent and kind student. I am also very happy with the performance he showed me.
Teacher Tine	As a student who has a lot of experience and advanced knowledge, Nelson is one of the most intelligent students that I handle. He reads and speaks well. He is also a fast learner who quickly understands what I teach. Before moving to a new topic, he makes sure to clear out all his misunderstanding of the previous topic, leaving no questions untold. Nelson has amusing social skills that could make people comfortable. He communicates very well in English and I think that's how he can make use of the learnings that he acquired.
Teacher Angela	He is very kind and has a warm personality. He always shares his experiences and stories here in the Philippines before we start our class. He is also open to sharing his opinions and ideas about the lesson. He has a wide vocabulary and good reading comprehension. Since he has already good English skills, he can still improve them by communicating more with other people using the English language.
Teacher Lalyn	Nelson seems to be my story/teacher student, and I am always looking forward to the story that he has each day. He is the sort of student who is not afraid to speak up and firmly express what is on his mind. What I also admired about him is his desire to understand all the unfamiliar terminology and how he answers all the questions attentively. He is genuinely open to learning, and his reading comprehension has significantly improved. He is a good learner in general, so these abilities should continue to advance quickly. Keep going! Good fortune!
